ASSOCIATE

BIOGRAPHY

---

Alex is an associate on the US team. He brings his passion for innovation, inspiration and impact to support the team across early childhood and student parent strategies. Prior to joining Imaginable Futures, Alex spent 4 years in strategy consulting in New York, with his time split between private equity due diligence at OC&C Strategy Consultants and creating strategic plans exclusively for nonprofits at Wellspring Consulting. He then attended business school, where he spent his time developing an understanding of the impact ecosystem and tackling the question of how to allocate capital flows to create lasting systems change.

Alex received his Bachelor of Arts in Psychology and Political Science from Williams College and his MBA from Harvard Business School.
